THE GAME OF POLO

A Fine Afternoon's Sport Witnessed at Newport.

SIX GAMES PLAYED.

Victory for the Reds in Four and for the Blues in Two.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE HERALD.]

NEWPORT, Sept. 5, 1877. Another large attendance greeted the polo players his atternoon, and the spectators were well paid for their visit, for they had the privilege of witnessing six very interesting games. The sides for the first game

BLUKS-Messrs. S. H. Robbins, captain, and Fairman Rogers.
REDS-Messrs. L. S. Bryce, captain, and Perry Belmont.

FIRST GAME. Messra Rogers and Bryce charged for the ball, the latter getting the first blow, and immediately knocked it across the lot to the east side, with Mr. Robbins at Mr. Belmont knocked it back with a back handed blow, and then sent it well toward his goal. Mr. Bryce followed and in less than half a second he knocked the object to the opposite side of the lot, where some good playing folhere made a good point for the blues, for he kicked the ball a long distance in the opposite direction. He, however, wheeled about and knocked it to within few feet of the goal, where it was picked up and sent between the pennants by Mr. Bryce, and the reds were victorious. Time, two minutes.

Mr. A Belmont, Jr., at the end of this game, took his position with the blues, and Mr. J. W. Brooks with the opposite side, making three on a side. SECOND GAME.

The latter touched the ball lightly, and he was followed by the opposite charger, who struck the object twice knocked out of bounds on the west side and as soon as thrown in it was taken to the opposite side, where Mr. Bryce took charge of it and sent it down the lot to his goal and thence out of bounds. After it was knocked out again in the same spot the taptain of the blues took it up the lot to the south roal, but it was stopped by Mr. P. Beimont, who it went the last time. After it was tossed in Mr. Rob bins got two hits and sent it to the centre of the lot

The sides for this game were:

BLUKS—S. H. Robbins, A. Belmont, Jr., and Fairman

Bluks—S. H. Robbins, A. Belmont, Jr., and Fairman Rogers.

RESS—L. S. Bryce, P. Belmont and Carrol Bryce.
The captains charged in this game, the one wearing blue getting the first crack at it, and he sent it out of bounds in the northwest corner, and when it was torown over the line again there was some good playing in very close quarters. It was extricated from between the ponies' legs by the captain of the reds, who with two blows, aided by a neat backhander by his valuable assistant, Mr. Belinoat, sent it very near his goat, but it was knocked bock in a very commendable manner by the captain of the opposite team. Here Mr. P. Belmont, siter Mr. Rogers had struck it a good blow for the blues, took the object up the lot in fine style. He was followed by his brother, who, being on the opposite side, knocked it back in splendid style, and there is no doubt but what he will become one of the best players in the club. After the latter had finished his run his captain knocked it half way across the lot, with Mr. P. Belmont behind, who, after striking it a teiling blow let his maltet fail. Mr. Robbinshere made a noticeable point. He knocked the bail with a standing blow from the northeast corner of the goal, which he wanted to capture, and he just knocked it over the line and won the game for the blues. Time, five minutes.

FOURTH GAME.

The rides for this game were as follows:—
BULES—Messre, Robbins, A. Belmont and Rogers,
REDS—Messre, L. Bryce, Brooks and P. Belmont,
Messre, Brooks and A. Belmont made the charge,
Mr. Brooks touched the ball ligatly, he reaching it frst. Mr. P. Belmont then took it down the lot, dealing it several effective blows, and had no sent the ball straight he "would have decided the game.
No sooner was it in the field again than it was knocked out in the northeast corner, and the first to distinguish himself atterward was
Mr. A. Belmont, who, with three near but powerful brows, sent it a long distance in the opposite direction, of the blues made a very neat stroke from under his pony's neck, and he sent the object went toward his goal. The opposite side got it away immediately, when Mr. L. Bryce, with Mr. Robbins at his heels, returned it, and the latter would have won the game then but for Mr. Belmont, who toward his goal. The opposite side got it away immediately, when Mr. L. Bryce, with Mr. Robbins at his heeks, returned it, and the latter would have won the game then but for Mr. Belmont, who yen't had long distance in the opposite direction. He was ioliowed by his brother, who, with his swift pony, reached the object and turned it in the opposite direction in fine style, and he was followed by his capital whe again succeeded in placing it near his goal, where it was knocked away by Mr. Rogers, only to be returned, however, by Mr. L. Bryce, who won the game for the reds. Time, seven minutes.

PIPTH GAME.

The sides for this game were as follows:—
Repas.—Measrs. L. Bryce, and P. Belmont.

BLUES.—Measrs. Robbins, Rogers and A. Belmont.

Mr. A. Beemont and the Capitain of the reds changed, the former striking the bail first, and he sent it with three blows right to his goal, and had his pony been a little more easy to manage he would have won the game all alone. His brother was behind him and knocked the bail back to the centre of the lot, and it was aimost immediately out of bounds on the west side, and after it was thrown in he struck it two more good blows, and ho was followed by Mr. C. Bryce. It was again knocked out near the last place, and when tossed in the capitain of the blues took it to the centre of the last, where it was kept for some time, the playing being in close quarters. Mr. L. Bryce got it away finally and sent it to the flower garden, where it went out of bounds, and after it was tossed in by the reieree Mr. A. Beimont played to advantage, followed by Mr. Robbins, who knocked it out of bounds on the west side, near the centre pole. Mr. P. Beimont knocked it right to his goal. When it was thrown in Mr. Robbins, who knocked it was thrown in Mr. Robbins, who knocked it was thrown in Mr. Robbins, who knocked to the centre of the lot, file lines got it wasy through their capitain, and in less than half a minute it was knocked to the contre of the lot and the retrieve sides. The reds played remarkabl commenced here to-day. The river bank was crowded with people. All of the races were a mile and a half straight away. In the first heat of the four-oared shell race only two crews started, the Wolvenhooks and the Cohoes crew. Three-quarters of a mile from the start the boats fouled with each other, but the crews pulled ahead, the Wolvenhooks coming is first. The Cohoes crew claimed a foul, which was allowed. No time was taken.

The pair-cared race was won by W. R. Hi'l and Martin Monenan, of the Olympic Club, of Albany, boating Charles Jameson and Michael Fenton, of the Mutuals, of Albany. Then, 12m. ½s.

The first heat of the junior singles was won by Higgins, of Cohoes. Time, 11m, 42½s. Turner, of the Utysses Club, was his only contestant.

In the second heat of the junior singles Miles, of the Wolvenhooks; Hailes, of the Mutuals; Wharrington, of the Wallervilets, and Fuller, of the Mohawks, started. The heat was won by Miles in 11m, 59½s., Fuller second, Hailes third and Wharrington last.

In the double soul race the following crews started:—Wolvenhooks, Miles and Craig; Laureates, Smith and Prescott; Ulysses, Thayer and Marshall; Mutuals, Pipenbrink and Mosley. The race was won by the Mutuals. Time, 10m, 20½s. The Ulysses was second and the Laureates and Wolvenhooks were distanced.

The six oared gig race had three starters—the Mutuals, Olympics and Filleys. It was won by the Olympies in 9m. Ss. Mutuals second, in 9m, 9½s.

The sport to-day closed with the first heat of the senior singles. Wilhams, of the Watervikts, and Tompkins, of the Wolvenhooks, were the only contestants. Tompkins won in 10m, 30s.

BBSEBALL.

ATHLETIC VS. CHICAGO-ANOTHER DEPEAT FOR THE CHAMPIONS.

The game on the Athletic grounds, corner of Twentyfifth and Jefferson streets, Philadelphia, yesterday af-ternoon, between the Athletics and Chicagos was watched by several bundred highly enthusiastic spectators. The Athletic nine was a mere experiment, two-thirds of them being selected from the various amateur clubs throughout the city. No one expected them to win, and the result of the game was a complete surprise, to not only the Philadelphians, but to the whole baseball fraternity. Storey and McCartney, the Athletics' new pitcher and catcher, played admirably together. The Chicagos were completely unable to hit the peculiar delivery of Storey. The Athletics opened the game in the first inning in reaching their bases. By poor base running, however, the side was disposed of before any runs could be scored. The Chicagos went out in one, two, three order in their half of the lining. The second inning also closed without either side scoring. When the third inning commenced the Chicagos began to realize that they had no easy task to perform, and by the close of the inning they began to look at the matter the close of the inning they began to look at the matter in a serious manner. The Athletics were on the alect and took advantage of every opportunity, and the result was that the score stood 3 to 0 in their favor at the close of the inning. It was not until the fifth inning that the Chicagos scored their first run, increasing it one more in the sixth and two in the severath. As they succeeded in blanking the Athletics in the last four innings, this gave them the lead, which, however, they were not able to maintain. In the eighth inning the Athletics added three more runs to their

HORSES IN EUROPE.
Russia leads all other nations in the number of its horses. In 1876 she had 21,570,000 horses, or more than all Europe besides, and sixty per cent more than are owned in the United States. Compared with other countries, Russia has one horse for every three and a half persons, Austria one for every ten, Prussia and Great Britain one for every eleven, France one tor every twelve, and Italy one for every twenty-seven. Far back in the history of Russia the raising of horses has always formed a notable branch of national industry. The government of Russia devotes special attention to the encouragement of horse breeding. There are no less than twelve imperial studs, of which nine are in Europe and three in the Caucasus; there are also fourteen government depots and country stables spread over the Empire, each having from 60 to 150 stallions for public use; besties which are about 2 500 private studs that own 6,500 stallions and 69,000 brood mares. The government offers prizes and meduls at races and exhibitions for improvement in the various breeds. Over four hundred horse fairs are held annually, and at fifteen of the most important of these from 2,000 to 10,000 horses are offered for sale, while in all some 300,000 change hands at these fairs. During the period from 1870 to 1875 Russia averaged an annual export of torses exceeding in number 25,000. In the provinces of Central Asia and Siberia there is almost a horse to every inhabitant. Russia requires in time of war, for its army purposes, 272,000 horses; Italy, 29,000; Turkey, 30,000. Egypt has about 6,000 mounted troops; Austria, 59,000 cavatry, in number of horses France stands next to Russia, with 3,533,605, then Germany, with 3,532,231, while Great Britain owns 2,255,129. In 1875 the number of horses in the United States was 9,504,250, and Canada claims the ownership of 2,624,200. Not only to mividuals, but to the British government, is the present scarcity of horses in England becoming a matter of anxiety. Lord Rosoberry stated in the House of Lords some time since that his government, is the present scarcity of horses in England becoming a matter of anxiety. Lord Rosoberry stated in the House of Lords some time since that his government, is the present scarcity of horses and 4,000 artillery horses; also at least 15,000 inpt and 75,000 horses. When on a poace footing the French army requires from 90,000 to 110,000 hor every twelve, and Italy one for every twenty-seven. Far back in the history of Russia the raising of horses has European war, when a large demand must arise for our horses. Already Canada has inaugurated the shipment of large numbers of fine draft horses, which meet with a quick and remunerative sale in Great Britain. The class of stock which may eventually be needed abroad is the horse of good weight, strong in limbs, full of endurance, hardy and muscular. Certainly no inducement exists either at home or abroad for the average farmer to waste his time and opportunities in breeding trotting horses, but let his attention be devoted to rearing serviceable farm and draft

NEW YORK LIFE INSURANCE COM-PANY.

The return from Europe of Mr. William H. Beers, resident of the New York Life Insurance Company, has caused considerable excitement in insurance cir cies, and at his examination, which will take place at an early date, the true status of the company will be ascertained. At the recent examination of the books

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAPH.

It was rumored in Wall street yesterday that the weekly meeting, and that the company would probably divide $2.000,000 stock at forty, to reimburse the com-pany for the cash paid out on the Atlantic and Pacific purchase. At the offices of the executive committee of the Western Union company it was denied that any business having reference to any such division had been transacted. The proceedings, it was stated, were merely of a routine character.

THE HARLEM BANK.

All was quiet yesterday in the Harlom Bank, Third avenue, near 124th street, comparatively few of the depositors appearing to claim the 100 per cent dividend the Board of Direction. The suspension of the institution causes much inconvenience to store-keepers in Harlem and the new wards, many of whom, instead of withdrawing their funds, yeste day appeared at the bank and asked permission to add to their deposits. It is understood the bank will be re-organized, with a larger capital, on the national plan.

THE FORTY-SEVENTH REGIMENT.

The officers of the Forty-seventh regiment, N. G., held an election at their armory last evening to fill the vacancy caused by the transfer of Colonel David E. Austen to the command of the Thirteenth regiment. The chaice of the officers was unanimous, and in regu-

A large number of Cuban and Spanish eigar makers went on strike yesterday at Wangler & Hahn's factory, at No. 202 Bowery, for two reasons. One was that their wages were reduced $1 a 1,000 on the making of all eigars, and the other was that the firm said it would not allow the men the customary perquisite of would not allow the inen the customary perquisite of four cipars a day and eight on Saturday. A number of the Bohemian worksien decimed to go on strike with the Spaciards and Cubans. Notices were read yesterday in all the cigar manufactories where Cubans and Spaniards work that a preliminary moeting, tending to the re-establishment of a Spanish and Cuban cigarmskers' union, will be held at No. 193 Bowery at noon Sunday, the 16th inst.

A BRAVE OFFICER.

street, ran down to the foot of Broome street, East River, and jumped in. Officer Michael Gorman, of the Phirteenth precinct, was near by and jumped into the river after the drowning man. A terrible struggle the river after the drowning man. A terrible struggle ensued, for Fink resisted the policeman's efforts to assist him, and the tide running very swiftly at the time made his rescue an exceedingly difficult matter. He was linally brought to shore and taken to the Tombs, where the Justice committed him until his sanity could be determined upon. Officer Gorman in November, 1876, rescued a man at Grand street under great difficulties, and received the sliver medal of the Humane Society for his brave act. He has also been twice placed on the police roll of honor for saving life, once at a fire and again from the river.

FALLEN FROM GRACE.

Fanny Moore and George Gove were charged at the Tombs Police Court yesterday with having stolen from Egbert S. Peck, a Warren street shoe merchant, a gold watch and chain. The property was taken from Mr. Peck's stateroom on the Fail River steamer Providence, while on the way to Boston. The prisoners were hold each in $1,000 bail. The property was re-covered, the police having found it at a South Fifth avenue pawn shop. Gove was formerly a temperance lecturer, and travelled with Murpoy, the noted temper-ance drator. Some time ago he abandoned his temper-ance doctrines, and has since, the police asy, been on the downward path.

THE STAPLES SHOOTING CASE.

The examination in the case of Willard R. Staples, charged by Basil A. De Con with discharging a loaded pistol at him during a scuffle between Staples and Cap-tain John Dixon, in the United States Hotel, on last Friday evening, was held at the Tombs Police Court, yesterday, before Justice Duffy. A large number of spectators were present. Counsellor Peter Mitchell, representing the defence, opened the case by stating that representing the defence, opened the case by stating that the affray occurred between gentlemen, and, being the result of a misunderstanding, all acrimonious feeling was dispelled, and the complainant was willing to withdraw the charge. Mr. staples had become engaged in the altercation as the champion of some respectable ladies about whom the tongue of gossip had wagged. He fired the shot under an nonest belief that his life was in danger. Under these circumstances counsel asked that leave be granted for the withdrawai of the complaint. Justice buffly denied the motion, whereupon Counsellor Mitchell raised some studie points of law in support of a second motion to dismiss the complaint. At the conclusion of Mr. Mitchell's argument Justice Duffly remarked:—

"Your points appear to be strong ones, but I would rather the District Attorney would take the responsibility of quashing the case than myself. Were I to release your chent a how would go up that the Court was compounding a felony."

Connsellor Mitchell—I would be sorry to believe that a judicial officer shrank from discharging a plain duty through any cowardice, (Sensation among the spectators.) Your Honor is clothed with full and ample powers and should act irrespective of all criticism.

Justice Duffy disclaimed any feeling of cowardice,

Justice Duffy disclaimed any feeling of cowardice, saying that in doubtful cases he always felt it more conducive to the public weifare to have complaints dismissed after reaching the District Attorney's office. Concluding he said:—"In view of the points raised will make the bail very reasonable—mainely $1,000." Ball was then furnished and the prisoner released.

PROBABLE HOMICIDE.

Isaac Ross yesterday entered the stocking factory of E. H. Schoffeld, in Academy street, Newark, and de manded wages that he alleged were due him, as he formerly worked for Scholleid. He was under the influence of liquor. Schofield refused to pay him anything. Ross retired, but again re-turned, mane Schofield angry, and a personal turned, made Schofield angry, and a personal encounter ensued. Selzing a heavy from ball that lay on a machine at which sat a girl named Mary Stearns, Schofield began to pound floss unmercifully about the near with it until flually Ross feil to the ground, utterly exhausted and bleeding copiously from hall a dozen wounds. Mary says she "heard his bones crack.") Then came four physicians, and they caused Ross to be removed to St. Michael's Hospital. Last night it was reported that be had died, but the roport proved premature. He was alive late ast night, but with no certainty of recovery. A short time ago he bothered schooled and the latter had him arrested, but the Jurge thought Ross more sained against than sinning, and not only discharged him, but severely lectured Schofield.

POSSIBLY A MURDER

A lad of seventeen years, giving his name as William Barry, was charged at the Tombs Police Court yester-day with a felonious assault on the person of Thomas Drowley, of the Newsboys' Home. The affray occurred on James street on Tuesday night, Barry stabbing on James street on Tuesday night, Barry stabbing Drowley in the side with a penknife, inflicting a serious wound. The doctors at the Chambers Street Hospital, to which the injured boy was removed, are in doobts as to whether the knife penetrated the lungs in his defence Barry stated that he had not intended to scriously hurt his antagonist. He claims that Drowley was constantly abusing him and frequently threw stones at him. Justice Duffy committed the prisoner without bail to await the result of Drowley's injuries.

THE KLINE TRAGEDY.

Archibald Allen, the brother-in-law of George Kline, and one of the victims of Sunday's bloody affray, died in Burlington, N. J., at a little after five o'c ock died in Burlington, N. J., at a little liter ave o'cock yesterday morning. Early in the afternoon the Coroner empanelled a jury and an inqest was held. They handed in a verdict that the deceased came to his death from a pistel shot wound at the hands of George Kline. Winder, the cousin of Kline, who was first shot, and in whose behalf Allen interfered, has so far recovered as to be able to walk, the wound in the knee not proving serious. Kline, who is in jail at Mount Holly, was apprised of Allea's death before noon and exhibited the greatest distress.

PROBABLE FATAL STAB.

During an altercation between Henry Ditmar, a German, of No. 491 Washington street, and Thomas Mittle, an Irishman, of No. 493 Washington street, late last night in Colman's saloon, No. 491 Washington late last night in Colman's saloon, No. 491 Washington street, Mittle was badly cut in the audomen by Ditmar. Ditmar was arrested by Officer Walsa, of the Eighth precinct, and locked up in the station house, and the wounded man was attended by Police Screent Cook. Thomas Ray, of No. 501 Greenwich street was also cut in the thigh during the métic by Ditmar. The affair was the result of a drunken quarrel between Mittle and Ditmar, who were both in liquor at the time. Captain McDonald secured the persons of saveral witnesses to the affray. Mittle will probably die.

AFTER MANY YEARS.

In the Essex County (N. J.) Orphans' Court Tuesday afternoon a decision was given in the case of Mrs. Harriet Wilson vs. the executors of the estate of her fore the Court for several years. Under the terms of fore the Court for several years. Under the terms of the will Mrs. Wilson is entitled to the use of one-third of the estate during ber natural life. One of the tracts of her husband's estate, designated as lot No. 1, was sold to Mr. 0. B. Kinsey for $23,600. At the time that said tract was sold there was a mortgage upon it of $7,000, held by the Newark Savings Institution, which said Kinsey raised after the sale to $10,000, paying the $3,000 thus obtained to the executors and thereby reducing the difference between the incumbrance upon the property and the price at which he bought it to $13,600, and in payment of this amount he put into the hands of the executors as follows:—Cash, $4,600; a mortgage on said property, $9,000—making $13,600. Because of this being a second mortgage Mrs. Wilson charged that the said executors have been guilty of gross negligence in the management of their trust and should not be allowed credit, but should be held responsible for the amount, $9,000. $9,000. The Court decided in her favor.

A MYSTERY SOLVED.

The mystery surrounding the case of William J. Brien, of Brooklyn, who suddenly and mysteriously left the steamer Margaret Miller while she was on her way from St. Louis to Cincinnati, about two weeks since, and whose trunk and other property were taken to Cincinnati and held by the police of that city, has finally been solved. Brice, while traveling from Washington to St. Louis, saw several gambiers on the boat who were trying to fleece the passengers. When St. Louis was reached he caused two of them to be arrested. The men were held for trial and Mr. Brien appeared against them. The other members of the gang swore vengeance, but by the aid of the St. Louis police he managed to keep out of their way and finally started for Cincinnati on the Margaret Miller. The boat had been on her journey but a short time when he discovered some of the gang on board, and thinking they meant to carry out their threats he left the steamer suddenly at Boston, notwithstanding he had a through ticket to Cincinnati, and thus escaped them. He proceeded to Cincinnati by another route, claimed his baggage and is expected to arrive in Brooklyn to-day. since, and whose trunk and other property were taken

PENITENT BURGLARS.

Captain Jordan and Detective Singleton, of the Jersey City police, yesterday took the pawn tickets found in the pockets of the two thieves, McCibben and Smith, arrested on Grove street on Monday afternoon and went to different pawabrokers in New York where they redeemed goods which had been stolen. Thus far four burglaries have been traced to these prisoners and it is believed that many more will be proved against them. They have turned State's evidence and acknowledge having stolen the property, and say that others are also implicated.

SAILOR'S BOARDING HOUSE KEEP-ERS.

Naw York, Sept. 5, 1877.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:-Please correct the statement made in your paper this morning that the Pilot Commissioners had commenced action against the sailor's boarding house keepers for not complying with the law in procuring their licenses. The Pilot Commissioners have nothing to do with it; it is simply an organization of this State of which I am the president. GEORJE W. BLUNT.

CAPSIZED IN THE SOUND.

On Monday last the schooner Active (of St. John N. B.), Captain Pye, from Dorchester, N. B., for New N. B.), Captain Pye, from Dorchester, N. B., for New York, when east of Stratford Point, saw a sailboat with two men on it capsized, about two or three miles from the vessel. The schooler went to their assistance, and succeeded in rescuing them in an exhausted condition. One of them, the owner of the boat, stated his name was Lines, and that they belonged to Bridgeport, and had been in that condition for about two hours, having been caught in a heavy blow. Captain Pye had their boat righted, bailed out and sails reefed, when he towed her to the mouth of Bridgeport Harbor, it lowing quite hard at the time.
